

Oral Presentation — Presenting the Country Study to Family

Base Sheet

Activity Sheet

The child delivers their prepared country study presentation to the family, using visual aids, making eye contact, and speaking clearly. This is a culminating moment that integrates research, language, geography, and confidence.

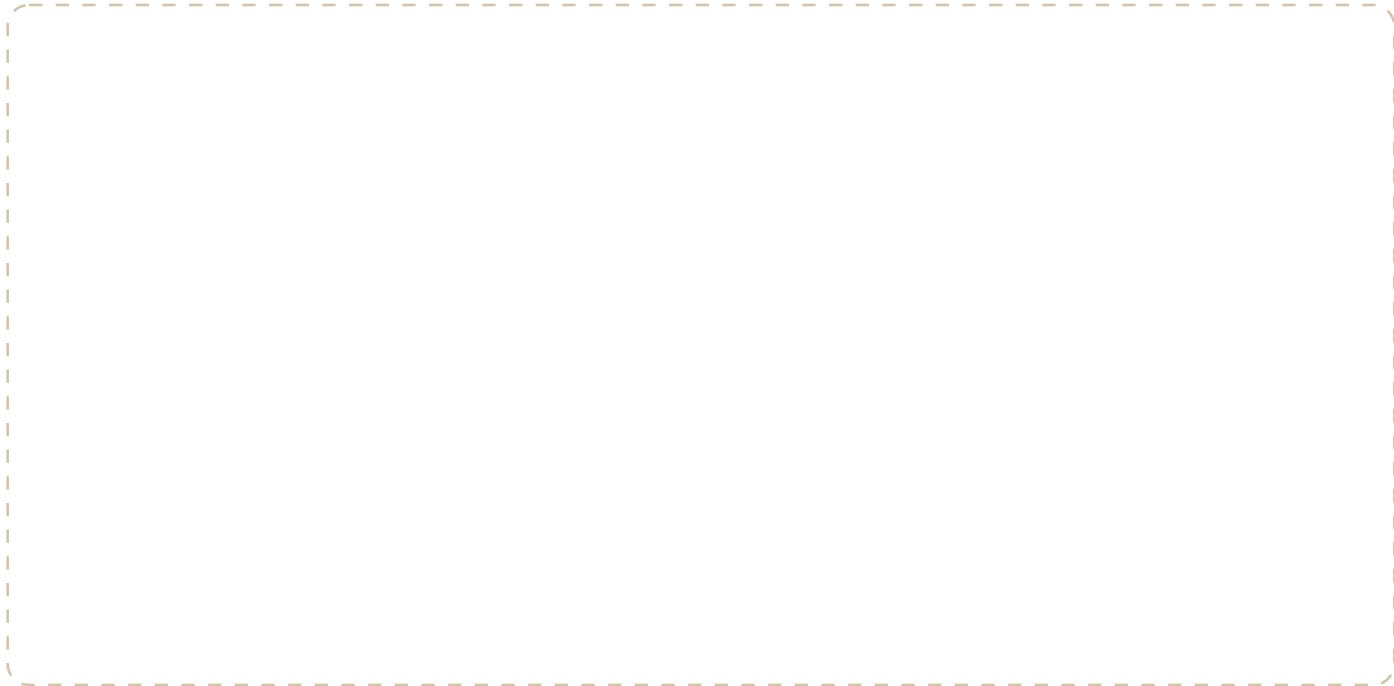

What You Need:

- Index cards with presentation notes
- Cultural display
- Visual aids (map, flag, artwork)
- Camera for documentation

Steps:

1. Final preparation: review index cards, arrange visual aids, practice once more.
2. Gather the audience (family members, even via video call if needed).
3. 'Introducing our presenter! Today [child's name] will teach us about [country].'
4. The child presents: 3-5 minutes, using index cards, pointing to visual aids.
5. Audience asks 2-3 questions afterward.
6. Celebrate with genuine applause and specific praise: 'I loved learning about... Your map really helped me understand.'
7. Take a photo of the child with their display.
