

Q2 Language Celebration — Reading a Book to a Family Member

Activity Sheet

Base Sheet

The child reads a book independently to a family member, demonstrating their reading achievement. This is the most authentic assessment of reading progress — performing the skill for a real audience.

What You Need:

- Child's chosen decodable reader
- Comfortable reading spot
- Audience (family member or video call)
- Optional: reading certificate

Steps:

1. 'You have become a READER this quarter! Today you read a book to someone special.'
2. Child chooses a book they can read confidently from the decodable readers.
3. Practice reading it once through. Note any tricky words.
4. Invite the family member (or video call grandparent).
5. Child reads the book aloud to their audience.
6. Audience listens attentively and responds to the story.
7. Celebrate: 'You just read a whole book to someone! That is what readers do!'
